His Integrity Is Doubted

After numerous demands have been made by the press of Nevada that Judge Langan resign from the district bench, or be recalled by the voters from that office, the aforesaid judge has submitted a communication to the state senate asking for a complete investigation of his affairs. Langan also announces that he will immediately convene the grand jury of Ormsby county and direct that body to investigate the affairs of his office in connection with the State Bank scandal.

It is a noticeable fact that Langan directs his communication to the senate on the day before that body adjourns sine die. There is absolutely no chance for the legislature to make an investigation in 24 hours, and this fact was well known to the eminent jurist who, after turning a deaf ear to all criticism for the past year, suddenly awakes to the fact that the finger of suspicion is being pointed in his direction from all portions

Just what action the Ormsby grand jury will take in the investigation is hugely problematical. Notwithstanding the fact that the main branch of the defunct chain of State Bank and Trust institutions was located in Carson and the residents of that district lost heavily through the failure of the banks, the Carson press has refrained from giving undue publicity to the situation. Langan spends most of his time in Carson, while Receiver Wildes is a resident of that city. Friendship may count more than duty when the time comes to report and it is probable that the entire matter will be given a coat of whitewash.

Judge Langan made no overtures toward assisting the legislative committee that investigated conditions during the present session and discovered that Langan had allowed Wildes' salary at the rate of about $10,000 a year, while that worthy official was also drawing a salary of $166 monthly from the state as payment for his services as assistant state treasurer. The investigators experienced trouble in securing records from the office of County Clerk Patterson, who, through the appointive power of Langan, is the receiver of the Nye and Ormsby County bank. Langan could have greatly assisted this body had he been inclined to do so.

Langan, in his communication to the senate, declares that the integrity of the court has been seriously questioned by legislative action and asserts that the people should know whether he has betrayed his trust.

As to the latter part the Bonanza insists that Langan has betrayed his trust and urges that he be recalled from his office without delay. It has been conclusively proven that Wildes has drawn a salary from the State Bank receivership and from the state of Nevada at the same time, claiming that his entire time has been devoted to the affairs of the defunct bank. This fact was brought to light by the legislative committee, and two weeks have passed without Langan taking any action in the matter. From appearances Langan sanctions the behavior of Wildes, or else he would have promptly removed the receiver from office and appointed an officer whose integrity was beyond reproach.

It was stated in the legislature that "the stripes would be put upon this man Wildes" for his action in procuring two salaries. The matter is to be further investigated by the attorney general. Yet Langan has failed to come to the front in the matter and continues to retain Wildes in office.

It is not to be wondered at that the people of Nevada doubt the in tegrity of Langan and assert that he has betrayed his trust. Every day of delay means that additional loot will be taken from the bank in payment of an exorbitant salary to a receiver who apparently committed perjury in declaring that he had "devoted his entire time" to the conducting of the bank affairs, while at the same time he was exacting $166 monthly from the state treasurer's office. The report of the legislative committee prononneed Wildes "a most wonderful man with a most wonderful personality" for the manner in which he served two masters.

Wildes, like Langan, has refrained from making a statement with regard to his actions. According to reports from the north he is remaining away from the capital during the legislative session and is supposed to be in California. It is presumed that he will return to Carson immediately after the legislators leave that city and then a lengthy delayed statement will probably ensue.

The integrity of Langan has been doubted in southern Nevada for the past five years, or, to be exact, since the time he took command of the State Bank and Trust company and also the Nye and Ormsby County bank. In the latter case he issued a writ of prohibition, preventing the local court from appointing receivers. This was after two receivers had been appointed and the work of liquidating the bank affairs was under way. Some half dozen receivers of the Nye and Ormsby institution have subsequently been appointed by Langan and the affairs of that bank centinue to be muddled. Had Langan not interfered and allowed intelligent and conscientious men to handle the situation the depositors might have received something out of the wreck. The same can be said in the State Bank case, but the hast for power was too great, and the depositors have the search of the fact.

A peculiar coincidence in connection with the scatting statement of Langan concerning his demand for a grand jury investigation is the fact that Langan himself will select the members of the jury, according to the provision of law. He will have epperantity to pass upon the entire venire and any individual who is known to be in apposition to the judge will stand a mighty slim chance of being numbered among the accurate will constitute the personnel of the inquisiturial body.

If Langan is really acting in good faith he will call upon the judge of some other district to draw the jury, but even an action of this kind.

Langan is going to have a difficult time in proving his integrity and it will take more than a grand pary report to convince the people of Neward that he has been slucere in his actions, especially since his recent inactivity with regard to Wilden.

Would you believe it?

This week we have the "El Chafa" to offer you as a bargain. We'll sell them all day Saturday at 25 per cent off. Think of that! such a price. Would you miss it? Why, Mr. Man, come in and buy one for your wife or your sweetheart and see their eyes sparkle-see them smile. And then enjoy a creamy Weish rarebit or any of those delicious things women know so well how to get up and offer a fellow after the show or a walk down town-if they have a chance. Take them a present of an El Chafo and thereby kill two birds with a single stone.

And don't YOU know, Mrs. Wife, if your husband has become neglectful that here is the chance for you? Or Mrs. Wife, whose husband is her sweetheart, or Miss Sweetheart, don't you ALL know that there is nothing to attract, to sooth, to hold a man, like something good to eat! Make goo goo eyes, pose, or read poetry to him, only AFTER you have appeared his appetite.

Then remember the opportunity it affords to entertain your friends in a most attractive way, and that at any time a full meal can be prepared on an El Chafo. DON'T MISS THIS CHANCE. RE-MEMBER THE DAY. SATURDAY at the
